To the June Class of 1938 . . .

GOOD BYE AND GOOD LUCK!

Your quest for that which you desire in life is now well on its way. But you will often wonder, as you pause for introspection, whether or not you have chosen wisely. Do you know what constitutes pure happiness? Must you have fame? Must you have riches? Is contentment the answer? And finally, if you find that which you seek, will you be satisfied that you have sought wisely?

Have you set a goal of attainment which you may reasonably expect to reach or are you lost in dream clouds? Do you have your feet on the solid ground of logic or are you caught in a mire of indecision?

You, and you alone, hold the answers to these questions. Face them squarely and demand of yourself honest answers. Evaluate yourself with rugged courage. Find yourself first, then determine your aim in life, and success will surely follow.

Good Bye, Good Luck and may you find the happiness for which you seek early in life.

PAUL K. CONRAD,
Guardian.

"THANKS FOR THE MEMORIES"

AMID the hustle and bustle just before graduation, we are stealing a moment to glance through a green and white pasteboard folder that somehow got under the French rules in our notebook. After close examination, we discover that it is a dance program; but it contains only four numbers. Each one is a madder whirl than the last. It is a record of our sojourn in South Hills!

The first dance is to the tune of "One in a Million." We surely felt that way during our first year—most of us were very much lost. The Big Sister reception brought the girls around, but no one seems to have had pity on the boys. In fact, by the look on their faces, we can assume that they are still lost. We wore pigtails and gingham frocks, or horn-rimmed glasses and checkered knickers, and gazed in wonder at those superior beings they called Seniors. Apparently we were an unusual crop of Freshies; among special privileges (?) conferred upon us were half-sized tablets and dismissal at 2:20. During our Freshman year, the special street cars were first introduced and what a fuss we made getting a car to take us home a period early. The cafeteria fascinated us, and our actions intrigued the veterans. We tried to use dirty trays, picked up wedges of pie and sandwiches leaving the plates behind, and made ourselves sick eating three or four desserts each day. We were still tying ourselves in knots trying to find references in the library, when the tempo changed, and the second dance was on.

"Lights Out" was the basis for swinging and swaying in our second year. We dedicated it to the flood which gave us an unexpected vacation in the dark, preceded by a long trek homeward in the drizzling rain. The perfectly swell operetta, "My Maryland," brought aid to flood sufferers, and enjoyment to the entire school. It was also in that historic year that South Hills won the football championship from Westinghouse, when a Sophomore boy, Al Ott, was on the receiving end of a long "sleeper play" pass. Do you remember the chorus of Sophomore noses that curled upward at the unique fragrance of grasshoppers pickled in formaldehyde. Many of these specimens are now legless due to the mania for souvenir collecting among that crop of so-called biology students. The semester closed on a plaintive note due to the death of our beloved science teacher, Mr. Hager.

In our Junior year, we finally got around to dedicating "I've Got You Under My Skin" to our very dear teachers who had been there all along. The sit-down strike not having yet come into vogue, South Hills students resorted to the good old kind, when a coin toss between South Hills and Allegheny for the right to play the championship football game, fell on the wrong side. Leaving the squelched Allegheny in our wake, we vanquished our old rival Westinghouse, to the tune of 12-0. Improvements in our Alma Mater included a much needed loudspeaker system in the auditorium and a newly refinished athletic practice field. The Motor club, sponsored by Mr. Chuska, came into being. With the dignity of being called upperclassmen, came the necessity for organizing. Ralph Mickey was elected president and Mr. Conrad became our guardian. Invaluable Mr. McAdow was suddenly taken from us by a heart attack. South Hills celebrated its twentieth birthday anniversary by winning the Clean-up campaign, and the National Honor Society initiated its first twin members, charming John and Rita Myron. Waltzing figures enjoying the first Junior-Senior dance, and the puzzled expressions on faces as the new grading system was installed, swung us on to our Senior year.

"Dipsy Doodle" seems to have been the theme tune for the slightly woozy crew that embarked on its career as Seniors. For the third consecutive time, we won the football championship, and Mr. Mack celebrated by wearing a very loud blue and white checked shirt the following Monday. On that same day, several hundred football enthusiasts declared an unofficial holiday. Early attempts of the dramatic classes at make-up caused queer apparitions to appear in the halls, when rouge and eye pencil proposed to come off only by wear. The operetta "Sweethearts" was added to the long list of South Hills' successes. The class play, "We've Got to Have Money," not only was a big success, but achieved the purpose indicated by its name. Members of the class play cast will never forget Romeo and Juliet as played by Mr. Hayward and Miss Price between the second and third acts. The Clean-up rally on the campus was a new project which proved most successful. Balloons came back from as far as Maryland and West Virginia and as close as Harwood Street. New fountains, a remodeled chemistry lab and crafts room made us wish we could stay longer. The St. Patrick's, Valentine, and Clean-up dances, where we whirled to the tunes of Don Mellow's orchestra, were so much enhanced by Miss McCahill's smile. Will we ever forget Miss White's astonished face when Dorothy Becker translated "Mon Dieu" literally? Wow! The school came of age about this time, and Mr. Rinehart left to become principal of Herron Hill Junior High. Our old friend, Mr. Glazer, became new vice-principal. Agnes Kubelick enjoyed a unique honor, being president of the S. C. A. and class president at the very same time. Our class pictures were just as terrible as we expected them to be. The boat ride on the steamer St. Paul was followed in rapid succession by Class Day. We looked awfully silly and had a bitter-sweet time to the tune of our class song, "Thanks for the Memories." The last moment of our school leadership came on June 14, Senior Recognition Day. The picnic was followed in all too rapid succession by the Prom. Soft lights and the sweet music of Val Garvin's orchestra combined to make our Prom at Schenley Hotel the crowning social event on our Senior calendar. Then, a solemn procession of 417 gray-gowned figures, and a pageant depicting the lives of Florence Nightingale, Wolfgang Mozart, Marie Curie, and William Shakespeare, on June 21, and the June class of 1938 takes its place in the role of South Hills Alumni. To you, South Hills, "Thanks for the Memories."

JUNE GRADUATING CLASS

A GYPSY TOLD ME that in twenty years . . . The élite of society will live in homes decorated by Ruth Bucheit, be photographed by John Burr, and will have their pulses taken by Drs. Burkley, Greenwood, or McGahey. Their chocolate eclairs will be baked by Herbert Hasis, and their newspaper owned, edited, and published by Ray Crawford. When they wish to take a jaunt to Hawaii, they will fly in planes owned by Bill Gilbert, piloted by Lloyd McCall or Tom Harris, and attended by Mildred Haley, Dorothy Heisey, or Gertrude Hando. While in Hawaii, they will see Ruth Copeland on her way to Ireland, and Verna Gramm, Ruth Gilmore, and June McCartney, jointly touring the world. Upon their return to the United States, they may have the good fortune to hear Louise Rowland in the role that made her famous; that of Brunnhilde in Die Walkure. Orla Harvey will model their clothes, which have been designed by Peggy Cox. Their ranks will have been swelled by Henry Liebegott and Bill McGahey, who have retired and become playboys. Their children will be cared for by Gertrude Coghill, and nursed by Marjorie Cantwell, Thelma Coullie, or Laura Lewis. Lastly, they will be buried by the Messrs. Shell and Egar, whose Funeral Home is the most famous in the country.

A GYPSY TOLD ME that in twenty years . . . Harriet Malamud will be living happily in the South Sea Islands. Anna Manko will at last fulfil her ambition to ride a horse like Jessie James, and Florance Ryan will astound the country by coaching a football team. Ruth Schwartz will introduce a new occupation for girls, that of driving a tractor. Marion Smith and Marjorie Fair will receive their college diplomas, while Dorothy Steenson will still be wishing to be intelligent. John Walters will be looking for a new job, Carl Weckel will be dating Simone Simone, and Pauline Watt will be going down in history. Moreover, we shall find Joseph Gerst performing janitorial duties at Vassar and Jack Stitt as a gob with Gilbert Zoeller as his commanding officer.

A GYPSY TOLD ME that in twenty years . . . Our government will undergo a miraculous change. No longer will we have a president, but a dictator will cope with the nation's problems in the person of Charles Dierker. He will have as Secretary of State George Kountz, who will have been a renowned lawyer for fifteen years. Suzanne Bard, who will have startled the world with her biological discoveries, will take her place as Secretary of Agriculture. Thomas Baldesberger will head the Bureau of Forestry, and Albert Borelli will supervise the chemistry division in the Bureau of Chemistry and Soils. Beatrice Freyer's ambition will be fulfilled when she becomes secretary to our dictator. Doris McCann will replace J. Edgar Hoover as head of the G-Men; and as speaker of the House will be Ruth Bagley, the outstanding representative from Pennsylvania. A new department will be created in the cabinet, the Department of Music Furtherance. Its Secretary will be Lois Barber, world famous cellist and music critic. The supervisors in the Bureau of Composers will be Katherine Able, Pierre De Charrance, Eileen Fallon, and Daniel Hopkins. The Bureau of Swing Bands will be headed by Grant Carmack with Louis Demme and Louis Hurd as able assistants. Outstanding members of the Bureau of Voice will be Ruth Ackerman, Elizabeth Barnes, Mattie Richey, Shirley Gano, and Gary Jones. Mary Lamb and Alice Huot will be Dictator Dierker's special newspaper correspondents, and Dorothy Becker, George Bricmont, Francis Hilsdon, and Herbert Joseph will use their writing ability to produce material praising and critizing the administration.

A GYPSY TOLD ME that twenty years from now . . . Homer Ninness will at last be able to successfully lay aside "Gone With the Wind." Harry Ossenberg will have succeeded Tom Mix as the ace horseman of the screen, and Margerite Miles will realize her ambition of becoming a Bachelor Girl and will be teaching school in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Those interested, will find Walter Meisner flying high as American Airline's crack pilot. We will find Rosalyn Rosenthal dancing in Radio City with Emil Neuner's orchestra, in which La Verne Orris will be featured as pianist. Having reached the climax of his political career, Leroy Timmons will be holding the office of Squire in McKees Rocks. Radio and screen comedienne Velma Miller will be co-starred with Geraldine Marsile and her All Girl Orchestra in the hit film of the year, "Broadway Melody of 1958." Kenneth Morrow will be able to take the much needed sleep, and William Moore will star in the picture, "He Got His Woman." Rose Marie Porter's Charm Shoppe will be the delight of every smart woman. We will find James Stebrich cleaning streets in Venice, Italy, and William Wortchek a member of the Fire Fighters of Mt. Washington Fire Department; and, last but not least, Marjorie Miller will be roving the country with a gypsy caravan.

What's In a Name?

SINCE the Senior A's have only one set of twins, they have decided to follow them on their summer vacation. The twins, John and Rita Myron, had a great Deal to do, however, before leaving. To be in Stile, Rita made herself a Gray sport dress with a Green Bow-(man) from a McCall pattern; and John, instead of helping, went to a Seckatary Hawkins meeting at a Harris theater; but since he had promised to Bauer something, he bought a box of candy at Macdonald's on his way home. Weil Rita was finishing her dress, John was Abel to go to the Barbers (he hadn't a Shaffer some time). Fritz Hein, the Deutsch Barber, who was living with his brother, a Mason, wished him Lotz of Luck; and his wife reminded John to be sure and Zender a postcard. Before going home, John stopped to see his friend Bobbs McGahey and said, "Will you lend me your Car,mack? Our (Craw) ford's Leakey gasoline tank is getting fixed, and I want to do some shopping." Bobbs said he could have the Austin, and so John started on his way. He stopped at Bard's and at McCann's, but the only things that he bought were a loaf of Haller's bread, a can of Davis baking powder, a jar of Dill(on) pickles, a box of Gramm crackers, and an O'Henry candy bar. Later that evening, Rita went down to Kelly's drugstore where she bought a bottle of Carter's ink, an ice cream Coen, and a can of Johnson's wax. When Rita returned home, she found a box of Roses from Gallagher's florist shop from Marcus Wunderlick, who had Hurd that she was going away. Since they had decided to leave on the Morrow, the twins began their packing; among the Buch(heit)s they took were Wertz by Edgar Allen Poe, Dr. Jekle and Mr. Hyde, a pamphlet by Jim Corbett and Jack Dempsey describing the half-Nelson, and for their cousin, a book of Robinson Crusoe, telling all about the Savage Land and the Vallor of a Saylor and his Conrad.

It was nine o'clock on the Dott when they left on Fridy morning; for Miles they had Fair weather, but suddenly, it began to grow Dierker (sorry no darker). Rita had the Shivers, because she was a*Fraudin* the dark, and *Crouch*ed down in the car; but John said, "Don't be Mervis; nothing Wilbarm you." But just then, the Huot of an owl frightened him so Bagley that he stepped on the gas and ran Ober the white line. It wasn't Moore than a Minnick until a Burgess appeared and gave him a ticket. That meant that they had to be in court the next day, so they stopped over at a hotel. The manager, Joseph De*Charrance* told the Porter to take their bags to their rooms, and then invited them to an organ recital; melodies from one of the Gilbert and Sullivan operettas were played on the new Hammond electric organ, and later the organist played selections from Wagner. Although the program was very fine, the twins were thinking Watt the judge was Abt to say in the morning, and John felt somewhat like a Sickman.

The next morning John was brought before Judge Patterson, who was to see that Justice was obtained. The judge Ball(ed) John out for being a road Ogg, but since nobody was hurt and John had only Bracken a Roule, he showed his Wisdom by not making him pay a Harvey fine. Before starting on their way, the twins stopped for lunch, and Rita warned John to Acker like a Man and not Duncan his coffee because it wasn't Reich. In the restaurant the radio was on, and there was an argument as to whether to listen to Lorenzi Jones or Jack Haley or the Feick between Lewis and Schmelling; but the twins decided that Damus Raley be going, so they missed the outcome of the discussion.

Soon Rita said, "Heisey uncle's Barnes and his *Field(ing)*s of *Gold(strom)*en Weet; and look, that Workman, Manning the Binder, is getting the Weet ready for the Miller." By this time, they had reached the farmhouse and were greeted by their uncle, Walter Baldesberger, who had just told Wallace Jankowiak, the hired man, to take the Wheel(er Muehl)bauer into the (Wake)field and gather Updegraf to keep the Wolfram the door. Their Aunt Leone had a Freyer ready for their supper with *Norrish*ing S(h)oup for the first course. It was too late to look around the farm then; so since it was *Chil(cott)*y, they all sat around the fire. Rita played her *Mandel*in, and John made Miscik on his Fluke while the others sang "Mazza's in de Cold, Cold Ground".

The next morning the crowing of the Cox awakened them. After breakfast they took a walk, and the Koch said that they Becker be back by Neuner there wouldn't be a (Mc)Crum left to Fedon. They saw the Lamb's in the field and the Martins sailing through the sky. They ran Pell mell up Hilsdon dells, for they were Yeager to see the Schwan in the pond Archer pretty neck. Entering a Greenwood filled with Beach trees and small *Bush*es whose *Burrs Caugh(ey)*t and *Hook*ed themselves on their clothes, they saw a Kuhn run up a tree and a Lazard scoot under a (Wy)rock(i). Because Rita was going along with her nose up in the air looking at a Larkin a tree, she tripped on an Orris root and Bender ankle. John Cuda helped her up, but only said that she was a Cilia girl for putting on Ayres. In the Schade of a Low(en) Stump not far off, a Jay was chirping gaily. Just then, they heard their cousin Collin(s) them, so they had to go back. When they reached the house,

Rita called, "Oh Guidi!", as she saw a (Hans)berry pie on the Eger the window Shellf. John opened the Doran was just about to cut a piece of pie when his aunt came in and shouted, "Oh mein Liebegott! Staab it! Don't eat that, that's for the bake sale." To his disgust, he had to be satisfied with a *Coullie*ng (Dou)glass of (Brun)wasser until dinner. However, when his aunt saw his disappointment, she said, "Well, if you'll get the apples and peel them, I'll make you a pie. You may be sure that by the time he had finished, John had become a (Mc)Master apple Peelor. After a dinner of chile con Carney, the twins went to the town's new theater (a very Swanky place); the feature picture starred Gary Cooper, Miriam Hopkins, Bob Byrnes, Chester Morris, and Frank Morgan. The audience *Boo(s)*ed when the villian, Boris *Kar(nafe)*loff pulled the Krieger on his Foster sister. In the comedy, Mickey Mouse, dressed as Buck Rogers, was seen Rowland down a (Cog)hill. When they left, John said that although he enjoyed the entire show, his Prefference was the comedy, but Rita said that she liked the feature picture better and could Fallon love with Gary Cooper anytime. At the house, John couldn't get the key in any of the Laux and was just Abbott to Stitt down on the steps to gaze at the Starzyn the ski when his uncle opened the Doerfler them and told them to Kim in.

BASEBALL

With a wealth of material at hand, Mr. Mazeski brought forth a strong baseball team this year. Defeated but once, the team maintained a steady pace to win the section championship.

They played a good brand of ball all through the season. Seldom going on heavy batting sprees, they came up with fast fielding, timely hitting, and reliable pitching.

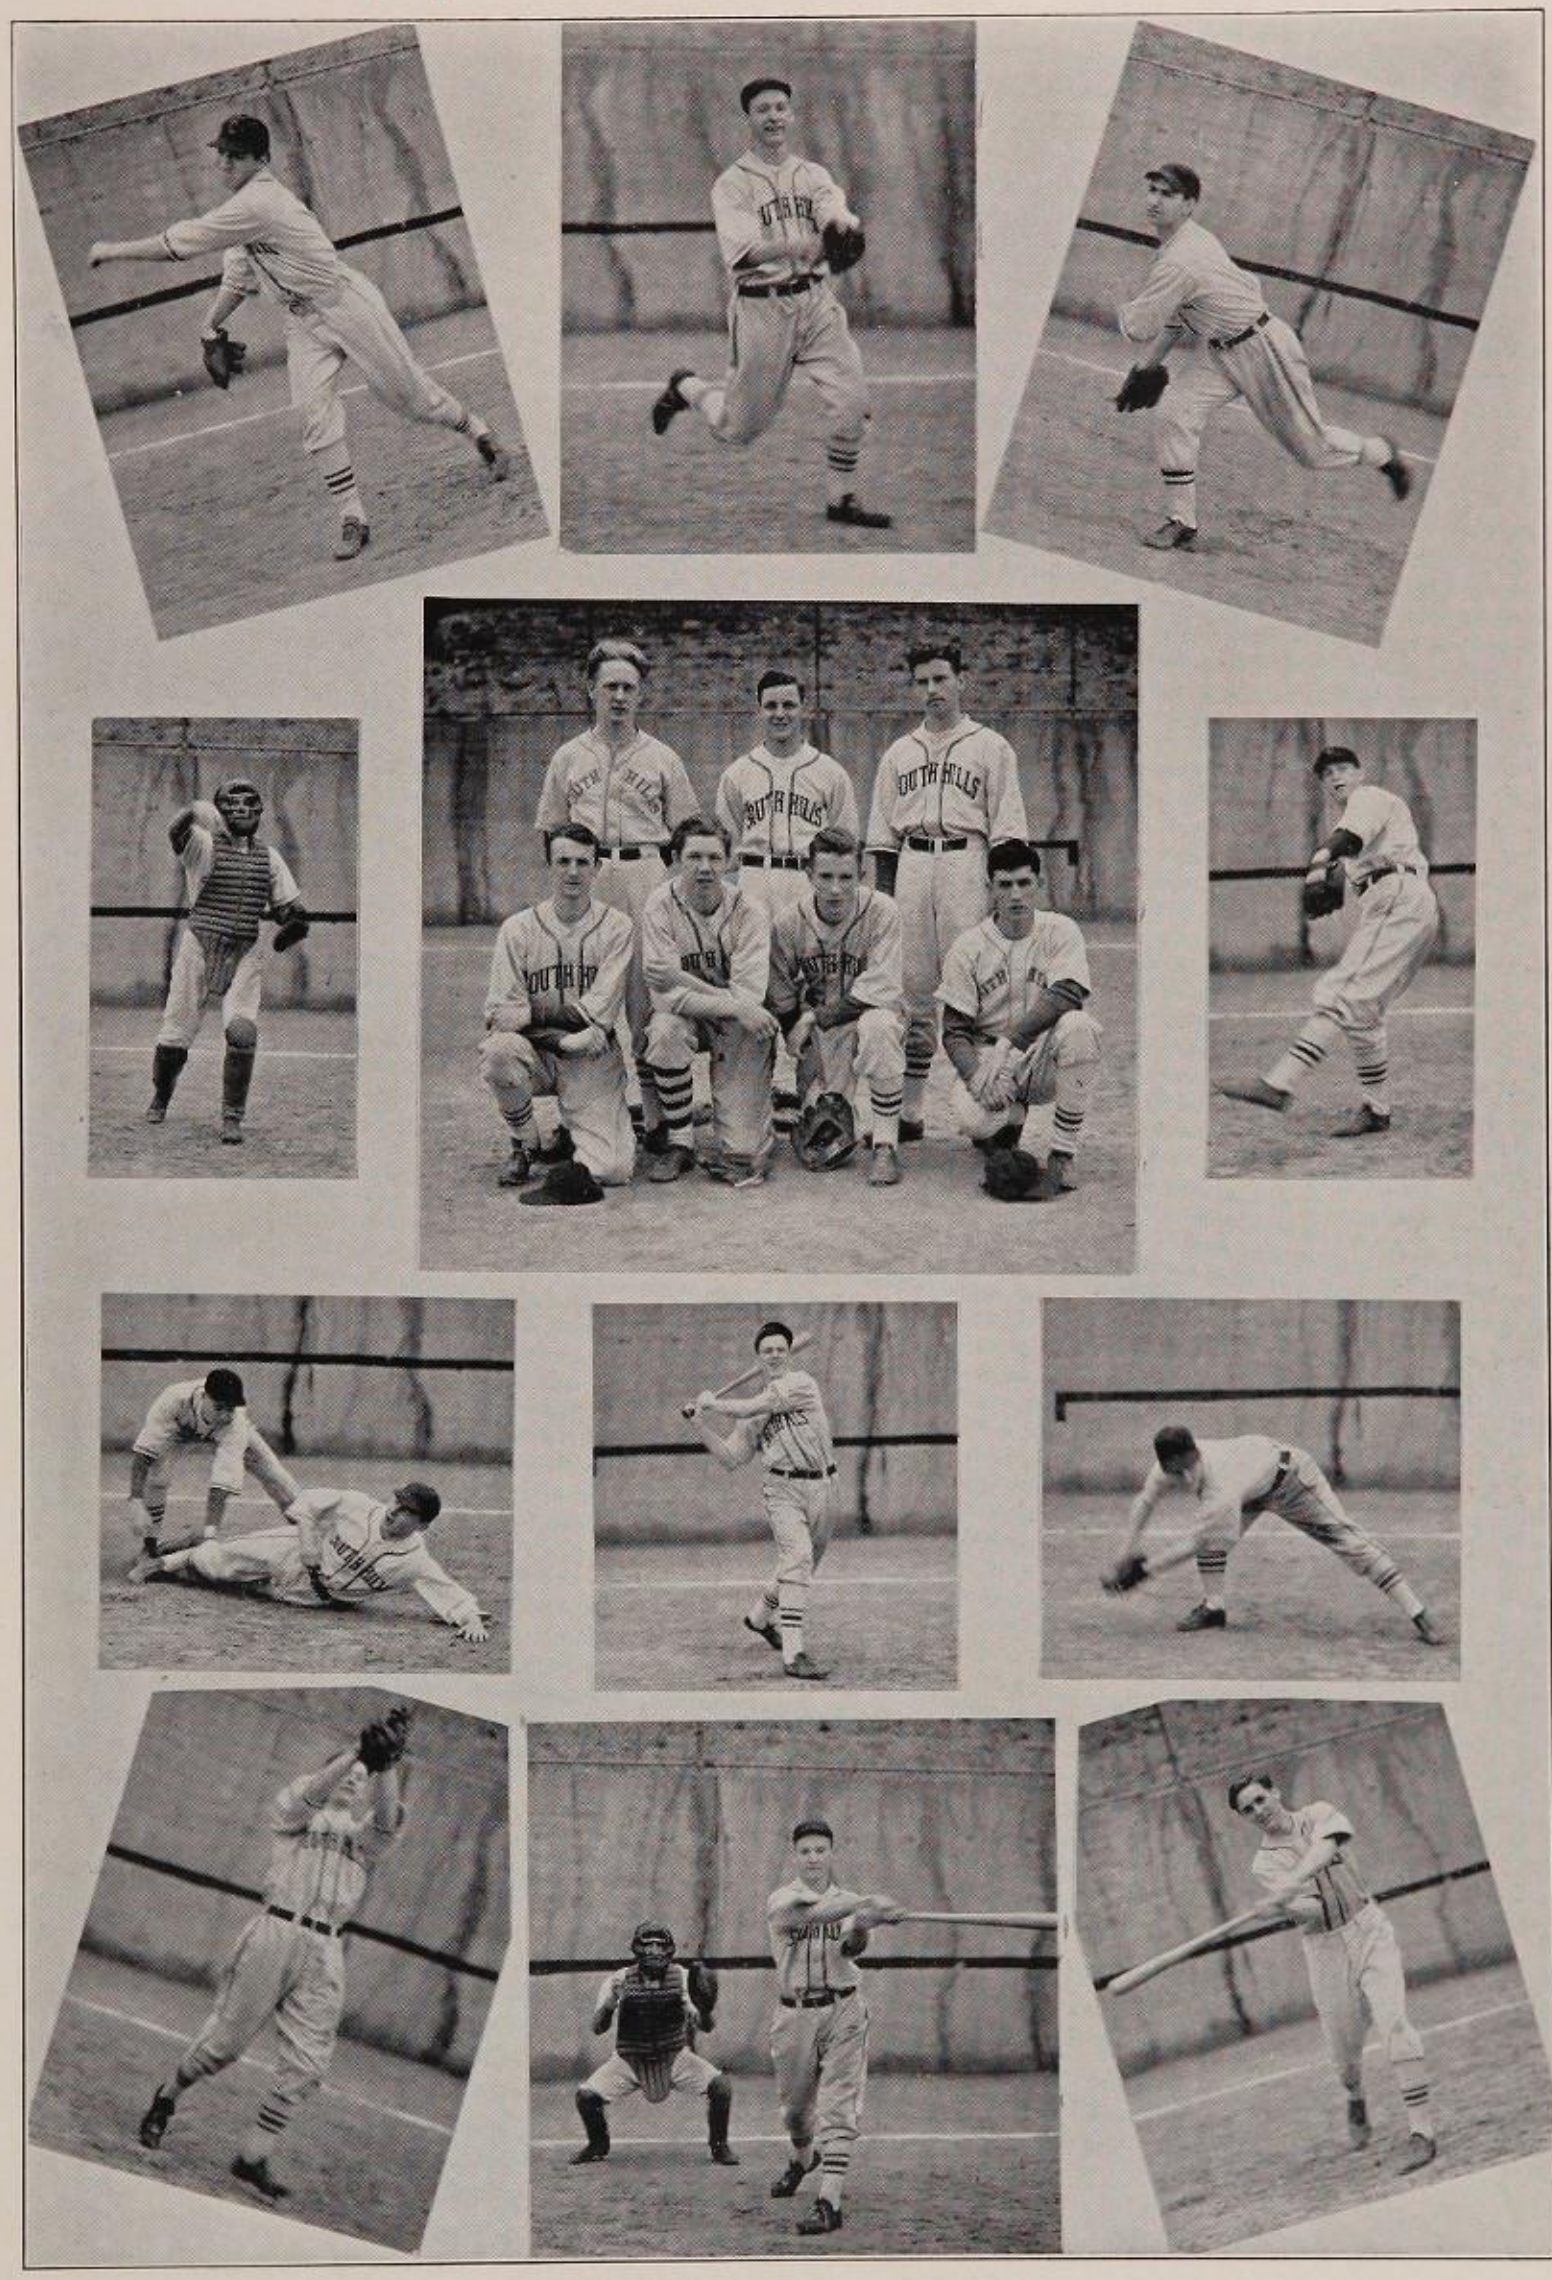
Davis and Fassinger did quite well in their job of catching. A lot of credit goes to these two boys and also Icardi for the splendid manner in which they handled our pitchers.

Capalbo, Weber, Liebegott and Kammerer made up a strong staff of moundsmen.

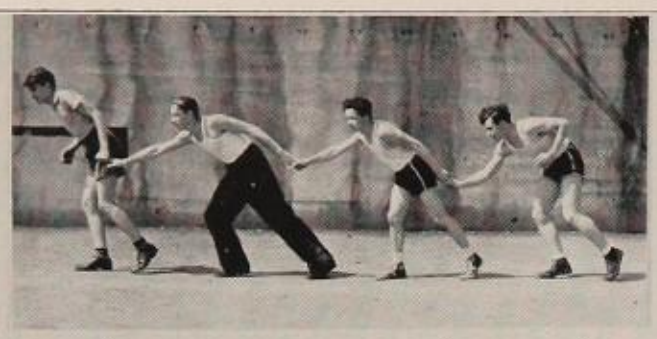
The infield was sparked by the brilliant playing of captain "Willie" Miller at shortstop. To back up this stellar three-year veteran was Fraas at first base, Fraudin at second, and Russell at third. Reserve men included McCaughan and McGill.

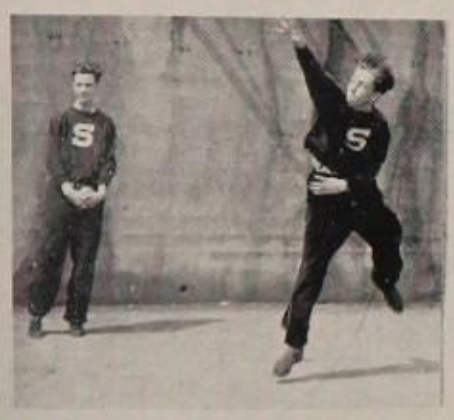
Patroling the outfield posts were such men as Feick, Dabecco, Cook, Brady, and a few of the pitchers.

Our boys will tangle with Peabody's section one champs to decide the top honors of the city.



CAUGHT IN ACTION





The track team of this year has been very successful. They won the indoor championships and finished second in the outdoor meet. It won dual meets with Carrick and the Tech Freshmen, but lost to the powerful Pitt Frosh.

In the outdoor championships, Frank McGahey won the 100-yd. and 220-yd. dashes in new record times of 10 seconds and 23.8 seconds respectively. Other winners were Graves in the open 100 and Tony Glipsic in the mile. Additional points were scored by Caivano in the 220, by Hooks in the 440, and by the mile and medley relay teams.

Out on the field, Wiggins won the broad jump, Sheridan placed second in the pole vault, while Abt and Abbott swept the first and second places in the shot put.

As a high point of the season some of the boys participated in the Mansfield, Ohio Relays Carnival.

OF THE

LEADERS' CLUB ASSEMBLY

THE Leaders' Club assembly program was presented on March 29 and 30, by the members of the Girls' Athletic Leaders under the sponsorship of Miss Ruth Stevens. The program, which was in three scenes, presented the leading activities of the club. Erma Crouch acted as announcer.

A dialogue, given by the officers of the club, Anna Mae Wieland, Ruth Goldstrom, Rosemary Kelleher, Irene Mespelt, Louise Bagganni, and June McCartney, represented a club meeting in which qualifications for membership into the club were openly discussed.

Two of the girls' games, deck tennis and badminton, were demonstrated. Participants in the deck tennis were Dorothy Jankoviac, Betty Moss, Vivian Miller, Claire Fitzpatrick, and Betty Lempe. Badminton, a new game just recently introduced to South Hills by the Leaders' Club, was expertly played by Rosetta Jones, Agnes Kubelick, Grace Huether, and Betty Danfort.

Our president, Anna Mae Wieland, introduced the Five Star Hit Parade, in which a large star was formed with each point representing a leading sport. Five girls, outstanding in their field, placed each point in its place; Agnes Kubelick for basketball, Betty Danfort for swimming, Dorothy Jankoviac for mushball, Rosetta Jones for volleyball, and Rosemary Kelleher for tennis.

Dancing was featured in the last scene. Colored lights showed the change from afternoon to evening and all the girls were on the stage taking part in the frolic. A May-pole dance in which Mary Johnson, Evelyn Shrader, Francis Hansberry, Jean Magrini, Margaret Campbell, Rita Regan, Litia Tesi, Clare Reis, Ellen Giannakos, Jane Knoepp, Elaine Banks, and Margie Fair took part, was one of the highlights of the program. The beauty of this scene was accentuated by the colored rainbow costumes which were made by the girls in their sewing class under the supervision of Miss McCahill. A tap dance was given by Edith Morgan, Bernice Kuehner, Dorothy Glumac, Dorothy Lynch, Doris Simmons, Biola Bonadio, Claire Pollick, Olive Remely, and Margaret Neuner.

The program was concluded by singing of the Club song, which was written by Erma Crouch, and a salute to South Hills.

GIRLS' SPORTS

THE girls' athletics finished in a whirlwind of exciting play-offs, as tournaments in basketball, deck tennis, shuffleboard, and mushball were played.

At the end of the basketball season the championship team was headed by Agnes Kubelick, as captain, with her teammates Erma Crouch, Louise Baganni, Elma Davis, and Skip Wieland.

Deck tennis was admirably played by Elma Davis and Louise Baganni, while the two champions, Midge Miles and Hannah Rosenthal won out in shuffleboard.

Girls from every class came out for mushball this year and the season promised to be a great one.

ARTS

Many years ago, the late Dr. Edward Rynearson began wondering why so much emphasis was placed on athletic prowess and no recognition given to those pupils manifesting superior qualities in Character, Scholarship, Leadership, and Service. A committee was appointed for formulating such an organization and now there is a branch of this society in practically all public high schools throughout the country. This National Organization has its headquarters in New York City and is recognized from coast to coast.

The South Hills branch was organized in 1929 and has had a marked success. At the beginning of the semester there were 30 members in this chapter. 43 initiates were added to the roll at the initiation ceremony. Of the entire group 53 are Senior A's.

"We've Got to Have Money" is the cry of many a senior class, therefore it was an appropriate title for the senior class play presented on Thursday and Friday evenings, May 12 and May 13, 1938. It was a delightful comedy with the necessary romantic touches and was received with much ovation by large audiences.

Dave Farnum never wanted to go to college but Tom Campbell did, so the two fool Dave's guardian, by having Tom give Dave his degree. The guardian arrives at Columbia on Commencement Day, bringing Olga, Dave's sweetheart. The secret is exposed. He stops Dave's allowance and forbids the pursuit of Olga. Dave goes on his own, organizes a Brain Promotion concern, stumbles onto a leather patent, bluffs a rich man into backing him and emerges triumphantly as a smart business man and Olga's affianced husband.

Much appreciated was the work of the various committees. Those in charge of the stage properties were Sue Beth Archer, Ruth Bagley, Mary Coen, Dorothy Davidson, Frank Kelly, and Audrey Minneck. Margaret Cox, Lenora Evans, Jane Justice, Rita Myron, Ralph Shaffer, and Sarah Zitzman worried with the hand properties. Dashing hither and yon with grease paint, powder, rouge and what-have-you were the make-up artists, Marjorie Cantwell, Hilda Cohen, Elizabeth Evans, Edna Grau, Patricia Koch, Marjorie Miller, Gerda Rose, Olive Stump, Ruth Krieger, and Rosalyn Rosenthal. The prompters, Rosemary Kelleher, Ruth Schwartz, and Wilma Swank, also helped with sound affects. Although the above, themselves, remained in the "unseen", their work helped to make "We've Got to Have Money" one of the largest, most successful and thoroughly enjoyed class plays ever produced in South Hills High School. Nearly eighteen hundred were present during the two performances.

From the very first rehearsal to May thirteenth, everyone connected with the play cooperated in the finest way possible, turning what should have been hard work into enjoyment. With patience—and it did take a great deal—Miss Price skillfully shaped the production until it approached a state as near perfection as was possible. Then the big night! Everyone scurrying about in that last minute excitement that one can appreciate only after a similar experience. Minute details that had to be attended to, everything in order before the curtain went up. After the first act Earle Bracken and Herbert Keebler made quick changes from Doolin and Lucas, to reappear as the Barber and Levante in the second act. Mustaches had to be supplied for several of the characters as well as wigs. The characters were calm throughout the entire performance. Mingling among the audience after the play, many favorable comments were heard.

Thus closes another successful page in the history of the South Hills dramatic department.

The Blue Band will long be remembered by the student body, notably because of its brilliant performances. Not only has it achieved a praiseworthy standard of musical efficiency but its fine military marching while on parade and the precision with which the complicated drill formations were executed has won unusual admiration.

Its success reflects very creditably to the excellent training afforded by Mr. Arthur and Mr. Evan and their associates. However, a contributing factor to this success was due to the willing cooperation of each individual in the organization. From the beginning of the fall semester to the close of the football season the band and its instructors spent several hours every day after school rehearsing and drilling.

The Parade Band consists of seventy-two members. It has nine marching columns and a line leader for each rank in marching formation.

The concert band has the same personell as the parade band except for additional drummers and trumpeters required for marching purposes.

CHOIR

The present South Hills vested choir rates high among the best ever organized in this school. It is under the capable direction of Miss Wayman that they have reached this standard.

They have done much to contribute to the success of the radio broadcasts. Their work in assemblies during the past semester has been of unusually fine quality.

The choir not only sings within South Hills but they participated in a program given for a parent-teachers meeting at Snodgrass School in Duquesne Heights.

Numbered among the best selections which have been given by this group are "Beautiful Saviour" from Twelfth Century Melody in which the solo was sung by Walter Hilf, the Bach-Gounod "Lovely Appear" in which the solo was sung by Shirley Gano, and the solo "O Divine Redeemer", also by Gounod and sung by Dorothy McDowell.

SHIRLEY GANO

Shirley Gano highly deserves to be recognized as the songbird of South Hills. Her brilliant performances will long be remembered as one of the outstanding features of the school's programs.

She is the leading soprano of the A Capella Choir and singing gives her much pleasure. The majority of soprano solos heard on our radio broadcasts were sung by Shirley and she contributed much to the success of various assembly programs. Among her best performances was her portrayal of Liane in the operetta, "Sweethearts".

But . . . Shirley is versatile; she not only sings, she can act. We shall never forget her humorous characterization of Miss Finney in our class play "We've Got To Have Money".

Add to all this a charming personality and the total is Shirley Gano.

CONCERT ORCHESTRA

STAFF

Student Conductor ..... Edward Danner
Manager ..... Earle Bracken
Assistant Managers ..... William Hurd, George Jones
Librarian ..... Edward Danner
Assistant Librarian ..... Aldo Icardi

The Concert Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Arthur, is one of the most efficient organizations in the school. It plays for every assembly program, most of the broadcasts and all evening performances given by the school. This heavy schedule creates work which requires long hours of rehearsal. Due to recent changes in school routine, only one period a day can be allotted to this rehearsal. This necessitates much after school practice.

This organization has 37 members. Its instrumentation is that of a full concert orchestra, including a Hammond electric organ. Mr. Arthur and his students have devoted much of their own time to practice and planning of programs to make this orchestra one of which South Hills may well be proud.

WILLIAM RALEY

As concert master of the orchestra, William Raley has distinguished himself in the field of music. His duties in this position are important ones for next to the leader, he is the most necessary member of the orchestra. It is his work to keep the orchestra a united ensemble.

Bill has been a member of this organization for 3 years. He participates in many other school activities. Besides being concert master, he is president of his home room and served as a cheerleader during the football season.

Bill's pleasing ways have made him very popular and his infectious smile is known to every one.

CHARLES RICKMOND

Acting as drum coach in the band, Charles Rickmond has earned recognition in South Hills hall of fame. Instructing the boys in drills occupies many of his after school hours for his job is a never-ending one. With Mr. Arthur's help he works out new drum routines and instructs the other drummers.

Aside from being a member of the parade and concert bands, Chuck plays in the concert orchestra. Because of his willingness to give so much of his time for these activities, he has made himself a favorite with all who know him.

12A CLASS SONG

Tune of Thanks For The Memories

Thanks for the memory of lessons that we learned,
Honors that we earned,
Of teachers fine, knowledge refined, we gained in four years time,
How worthy it was.
Thanks for the memory since when we first began,
You took us by the hand,
The things you said are in our heads as well as in the books we read,
How worthy it was.
We tried to learn by the old way, but you taught us rules with a new sway,
And now when we leave on this last day,
We'll know just how to thank you now.
So, thanks for the memory,
Dear South Hills as we go,
Our classmates will all know,
We might have been a burden and tried to get our word in,
But say you'll forget
Wrong things we did,
We'll try to be an asset and make you glad that we met,
So thank you so much.
